The self-proclaimed "freedom fighter" — one of the more outspoken proponents of privacy-focused technology — is being accused of sexually assaulting an ex-girlfriend in Costa Rica, the Guardian reports. The alleged victim, who was McAfee's girlfriend for more than a year, has not yet come forward, although the outlet says she is still in the country and is being advised to remain anonymous. As part of the investigation, the Guardian has reviewed a two-minute video filmed in 2016 by the same victim during which she explained why she believes McAfee should be incarcerated for life. The video reportedly shows the former lovers kissing while she talks about McAfee, who has not been charged with a crime. The victim, who spoke with the Guardian on condition of anonymity, explained that she knows other victims who were sexually assaulted by McAfee. "He hurt me and my family, and he hurt others," the woman, who said she was speaking out "because I love him so much," said. "If we don't speak out and tell the truth, we're going to have more victims and more families destroyed." McAfee has not yet publicly responded to 82157476af
